TRUST AND ESTATE DISPUTES

With an ageing and increasingly wealthy population and the rise of more diverse family structures, disputes over trusts and estates have become more prevalent. You may not have received what you had anticipated from an estate, have concerns about how a trust is being managed or be questioning the validity of a will or gift. Pursuing or defending a claim can be distressing for those involved with the potential for acrimony to arise within families. To support you in navigating these challenging situations, you should be working closely with advisers who can provide you with pragmatic guidance with sensitivity and discretion.

TAILORED GUIDANCE WITH SENSITIVITY AND DISCRETION

Our Trust & Estates Disputes lawyers advise executors, trustees and beneficiaries, in the UK and internationally, on the action to take when a dispute occurs over the administration of a trust or an estate. No client or set of circumstances is the same so we take the time to gain an in-depth understanding of the intricacies of the situation. We can then work with you to develop an individually tailored strategy to help you achieve the best possible outcome.

Wherever possible, we aim to achieve early resolution. However, when litigation is unavoidable, we have the expertise to guide you skillfully through the process. Our team prides itself on producing innovative solutions for clients and has the expertise to resolve high-value, complex disputes involving multiple jurisdictions.

TRUST AND ESTATE DISPUTES

WHAT IS CONTENTIOUS PROBATE?

Contentious probate is any legal dispute relating to a person's estate after their death. It's an umbrella term that covers a wide range of claims, including:

- Disputes over the validity of a will
- Challenges to the executor's powers or decision-making
- Applications to remove and replace executors (or other personal representatives)
- Claims for financial provision from an estate by someone who has not been left enough to meet their needs
- Claims to clarify a will when its meaning is unclear
- Claims to rectify an obvious mistake in the will's content
- Claims to honour a deceased's promise, where it is not fulfilled in the will
- Disputes about lifetime gifts made by the deceased person
- Claims by or against the estate in respect of debts owed

This is not a complete list. Families are both wealthier and more complex than ever before, meaning the potential for disputes to arise is increasing. Any disagreement about how a loved one's estate is handled can potentially fall under the contentious probate umbrella.

WHAT IS THE PROCESS FOR DEALING WITH TRUST & ESTATES DISPUTES?

There is no single process for dealing with Trust & Estates Disputes. Since each case is different, the process required, and timetable followed, will depend on the nature and facts of the dispute. As a first step, your solicitor will identify whether there is a valid claim, who can bring the claim, and the most effective and proportionate approach for resolving it.

Where possible, we will consider alternative avenues such as mediation to ensure that disputes are resolved quickly and cost-effectively. Some contentious matters, such as claims for rectification and for financial provision under the Inheritance (Provision for Family and Dependants) Act 1975, require an application to the Court within strict deadlines. We will walk you through the process and advise you about the merits and prospects of success, likely costs and timescales so you can make an informed decision about how to proceed.

TRUST AND ESTATE DISPUTES

WHO PAYS TRUST & ESTATES DISPUTES FEES?

There may be different answers to this question depending on the claim. The usual rule is that the loser pays the winner's costs, but there may be exceptions. In some contentious probate claims, costs can be recovered from the estate.

In others, a party to the dispute may have to bear their own legal costs. We will explain your options to you clearly and help you decide on the best approach for your situation.

HOW LONG DO TRUST & ESTATES DISPUTES TAKE?

Again, this will depend on the type of claim. Some claims have strict time limits; for example, if you are claiming that the deceased should have provided for you but did not, you have just six months from the date of the Grant of Probate to bring the claim. If you are claiming the deceased was coerced into making their will, the time limit can be up to twelve years.

Some claims are much simpler to deal with than others. For example, an application to correct an obvious error in a will, like a typo, is going to be dealt with much quicker than an application to enforce a promise the deceased made before they died. Every claim goes through a number of stages which may or may not include court action. Deciding to settle the claim before it reaches court, or choosing to use a type of Alternative Dispute Resolution such as mediation, will likely shorten the process.

EMPLOYMENT LAW FOR EMPLOYEES

CLARIFYING THE SITUATION WITH CLEAR, PRACTICAL ADVICE.

We spend a vast amount of time at work and it is mostly a positive experience. You may need some advice in reviewing a new employment contract and negotiating the terms, asking for a promotion or requesting a flexible working pattern. We can help to clarify the situation for you by providing clear, practical and confidential guidance.

Our Employment team works closely with you to decide on your ultimate objective, whether that is remaining in employment (where possible) or negotiating the best terms of departure through a settlement agreement. If all else fails then we can help you pursue your claim through the Employment Tribunals or Courts.

As we have extensive experience in acting for both employers and employees, we see the situation from both perspectives and can anticipate the thought process of your opponent. Due to the stressful nature of employment disputes, we generally encourage an early resolution but when litigation is required we are robust and tenacious in our approach to get you the best possible outcome.

We advise on all employment related matters including:

- Reviewing your employment contract, service or consultancy agreement
- Employment status
- Flexible working and family related matters

FAMILY OFFICES

CREATING A LEGACY FOR YOU AND YOUR FAMILY.

As the needs of multi-generational and international families evolve, the family office becomes an increasingly important vehicle when it comes to protecting significant wealth whilst fulfilling business and philanthropic aims. Each family office is unique in terms of culture, structure and scope; they reflect the distinct values and interests of the families they are associated with. Due to this diversity, each family office will encounter its own legal, business and personal challenges. It is therefore crucial to work with a team of trusted advisers with the ability to provide you with pragmatic and truly bespoke advice.

With strong expertise in tax and estate planning, wealth structuring and succession planning, our Tax & estate planning team provides single and multi-family offices with guidance on the accumulation, protection and transfer of family wealth to future generations. As the affairs of high net worth families become increasingly complex, often spanning multiple jurisdictions, we ensure your wealth is structured in a way that is tax efficient and fulfils the requirements of you and your family. Our team gains a thorough understanding of your circumstances so we can provide you with carefully tailored solutions which align with your objectives and priorities.

IMMIGRATION

BESPOKE SOLUTIONS FOR HIGH NET WORTH INDIVIDUALS.

In today's world in which people and their business affairs are increasingly international, immigration plays a critical role. However, the legal framework governing global mobility is constantly changing and is becoming an ever more challenging field for individuals and organisations to navigate.

Whether you are a wealthy individual looking to move with your family, an entrepreneur choosing to expand your business, or an established organisation transferring employees from overseas, you need expert legal advisers who can provide creative, strategic guidance to make this process as smooth as possible.

Our Immigration team offers a personal and tailored service to private clients and businesses. We invest time in gaining a full understanding of your unique circumstances and priorities, which allows us to determine the route which best fits your requirements. We can then guide you practically and pragmatically through the immigration process, also advising on any relevant tax planning implications.

For high net worth individuals and their families making the decision to relocate, solutions may involve the Innovator Founder Visa, Global Talent Visa, Student or Working Visas, or an application on the basis of family relationships. If you have already lived in the UK for a time, our team can also advise on applications for permanent residence, indefinite leave to remain and citizenship.

We also provide innovative advice to businesses looking to recruit nationals from abroad or to transfer employees to the UK from an overseas office. This may include obtaining and managing a sponsorship licence for an employer, submitting applications for Skilled Worker Visas or Global Business Mobility Visas for sponsored employees under the points based system, arranging Tier 5 visas for temporary workers (Creative and Sporting) or obtaining a temporary sponsor licence and then a UK Expansion Worker Visa for overseas companies sending their first employee to the UK to grow the business.

INTERNATIONAL TRUSTS, TAX & ESTATE PLANNING

CLARIFYING COMPLEXITY AND PROTECTING YOUR ASSETS.

Wealthy individuals and families with international affairs must give careful consideration to ensure that their assets are protected and passed on to future generations in a way which is effective and efficient in all the relevant jurisdictions. Whether the circumstances involve assets owned in various parts of the world or foreign people living in or moving to the UK, without proactive and strategic planning there is a risk of assets passing in an unintended way or valuable opportunities being missed.

With tax and succession laws becoming increasingly complex, you need a trusted adviser to help you navigate the landscape and structure your wealth in a way that ensures tax efficiency and fulfils the requirements of you and your family. We regularly work with advisers around the world to ensure that advice in different jurisdictions is properly coordinated.

Our team works closely with wealthy international individuals and families to support them in protecting their wealth now and in the future. Our clients' assets can be complex and diverse requiring the deployment of a variety of holding vehicles including trusts, foundations, companies and partnerships.

We offer a truly bespoke service by gaining a complete understanding of your circumstances and priorities. We can then devise uniquely tailored and sophisticated frameworks which manage your wealth effectively, providing the necessary flexibility to respond to changing circumstances. Our team has a reputation for taking a creative approach and we pride ourselves on continually striving to find new and better ways to help our clients manage their wealth.

MEDIA & PRIVACY

PROTECTING YOUR PROFILE.

In today's technologically driven world, private or false information can be disseminated in a matter of seconds with the potential to violate the privacy of you and your family or jeopardise the reputation you have spent a lifetime building. As well as possibly having significant financial repercussions, it can prove to be extremely emotionally distressing. Your reputation is your most valuable asset and must be protected. Whether you need to take swift action to deal with specific damaging information or are looking to proactively review, manage or exploit your reputation on or offline, you should work with a team which can provide you with pragmatic solutions with clarity and sensitivity.

Our Media and Privacy team acts for individuals in high profile careers who may rely on their reputation for work, be they business leaders or personalities in the media spotlight. Our expertise covers all disciplines related to the protection of reputation and privacy including defamation, breach of confidence, data protection, harassment, brand protection and the Right to be Forgotten.

Each and every client and situation is unique so we gain a full understanding of the circumstances and devise a tailored strategy. We understand how upsetting it is when your reputation or privacy is compromised and will work determinedly to gain control of the situation and deliver the best possible result.

PERSONAL INSOLVENCY

PROFESSIONAL ADVICE FOR COMPLEX AND HIGH-VALUE PERSONAL INSOLVENCY MATTERS

Personal bankruptcy often involves complex and contentious legal issues, especially when it concerns international debtors, creditors, lenders, assets and financial structures. Our partner-led team has the expertise to help you tackle these challenges. We advise the full range of stakeholders including trustees in bankruptcy, debtors and their families, creditors and anyone involved with or exposed to the personal insolvency process.

COMPREHENSIVE PERSONAL BANKRUPTCY SERVICES FOR HIGH-NET WORTH INDIVIDUALS

International bankruptcy experts - We regularly act for both the trustee and the debtor in bankruptcies where the debts run to millions. We have particular expertise advising internationally mobile, high-net-worth individuals, their family

Many of the bankruptcies we deal with have a cross-border element and we have significant experience advising on bankruptcies that span multiple jurisdictions. Such cases often involve working with overseas lawyers to preserve and recover international assets, making and defending insolvency proceedings in other jurisdictions, challenges to voluntary arrangements and investigating offshore trusts.

By involving us at an early stage if you find yourself facing financial difficulties, we can help you identify problems and aid meaningful conversations with stakeholders to achieve the best outcome. PROBATE

A PERSONAL SERVICE WHEN IT IS NEEDED MOST.

In the extremely difficult and upsetting time following the death of a family member or other loved one, there are many things you have to attend to and consider. Dealing with the legalities should be made as straightforward and stress-free as possible. You need the support of an empathetic adviser who can provide you with clear, pragmatic guidance to ensure that the estate is administered correctly, promptly, tax-efficiently and in a way that fulfils the wishes of the deceased.

Our Probate team provides practical, tailored advice to families, executors and beneficiaries on the administration of estates after death. This could involve the transfer of assets to future generations or ensuring a family business continues running or is passed to a child or spouse. People's lives can be complicated and the estates we deal with are often complex, high value and spanning across multiple jurisdictions.

We advise on business, agricultural and heritage property reliefs from inheritance tax and post-death variations, as well as preparing inheritance tax accounts, obtaining grants of probate and negotiating valuations with HMRC. Our team has significant experience in dealing with cross-border succession issues, working with advisers in other jurisdictions to ensure that estates are administered in a coordinated way, obtaining UK grants for foreign people who died owning UK assets, and re-sealing Commonwealth grants and English grants overseas.

RESIDENTIAL PROPERTY

BESPOKE, PRAGMATIC ADVICE THROUGH EVERY STEP OF THE PROCESS.

Buying or selling property can be an exciting yet stressful experience, particularly in today's turbulent economic climate and unsettled real estate market. By nature, it can also involve very tight deadlines and complex structures. Whether you are purchasing your main residence or widening your property portfolio, the conveyancing process should be made as stress-free as possible by instructing trusted advisers who can offer you high quality, tailored advice.

Our Residential property team delivers an integrated and seamless service, drawing on expertise from across the Real estate practice to provide guidance on any property matter that you, as a private client based in the UK or overseas, may face.

On the residential side we advise on sales and purchases, funding and structuring for tax efficiency, leasehold enfranchisement, lease extension and residential lettings, with a special focus on prime and super prime London properties and substantial country houses. When it comes to your commercial property assets, we have the expertise to support you with sales and purchases and the full range of landlord and tenant issues.

We understand that each and every client is unique with specific objectives and priorities so we take the time to fully familiarise ourselves with these. We can then take you smoothly through the transaction, pre-empting and navigating any potential pitfalls and providing truly bespoke and pragmatic advice.

TAX DISPUTES & INVESTIGATIONS

GUIDING YOU & YOUR BUSINESS THROUGH DISPUTES WITH HMRC.

Disputes with HMRC can arise for any number of reasons. There may have been a mistake which needs to be remedied; HMRC may want more evidence to substantiate your tax position; or there may be a disagreement over how the law should be applied.

Our team advises wealthy individuals, owner managed businesses and entrepreneurs on dealing with disputes and investigations across all areas of tax. We have the expertise to handle disputes relating to the most complex aspects of personal and corporate tax. These include, for example, the remittance basis of taxation for non-domiciliaries, the taxation of offshore trusts and companies, tax arrangements for companies and individuals, including tax residence and domicile issues. Our team also provides preventative advice so you can mitigate tax risk which may be associated with any proposed or existing arrangements.

We are committed to achieving the best outcome for you as a client. We gain a full understanding of your circumstances so we can provide solutions tailored to your specific situation.

Using our in-depth knowledge HMRC practice and procedures, we always seek to negotiate a settlement which is cost effective and acceptable for both you and HMRC wherever possible.

Taking a dispute to the Court or Tribunal should almost always be a last resort. However, in those cases where a settlement is either not possible or not desirable, we have the experience, ability and determination to proceed to litigation to protect our clients from attack by HMRC.

UK TRUSTS, TAX & ESTATE PLANNING

CREATING AND PRESERVING YOUR LEGACY.

Considering estate and succession planning during your lifetime gives you the opportunity to structure your affairs in a flexible and tax-efficient way for the short and long term. You may be looking to provide for children or grandchildren without them having control too soon, preserve business assets, or protect a disabled child. To ensure that your wealth is structured in line with your priorities, you need an expert adviser to provide you with creative and individually tailored advice. While the scope for people domiciled in the UK to create new trusts tax-efficiently is more restricted than in the past, there are still a number of planning options.

Our team will guide you through the available tax and succession planning opportunities and provide effective strategies to deal with issues which could impact the transfer of wealth including marital breakdown, financial immaturity, mental incapacity and providing for disabled beneficiaries.

We support individuals, families and trustees in the establishment and administration of trusts and other estate planning structures. We also advise on the ongoing management of existing trusts, including changes of trustees, restructuring and taxation.

We know that each and every client is unique so we spend time gaining a thorough understanding of your specific circumstances and what is important to you and your family with regards to succession. We will then work with you to manage your estate in a way that is tax-efficient and fulfils your wishes for your family's future.

US/UK TAX ADVICE

UK TAX ESTATE PLANNING ADVICE, WITH A US CONSCIENCE

For individuals with personal and financial connections in both the US and the UK, navigating the interaction between the two regimes on matters of tax, estate planning, trusts and succession can be complex. Individuals may have just avoided the pitfalls of one jurisdiction only to fall foul of the rules in the other.

If you are in the position where you have interests across both sides of the pond, it is crucial that you work with advisors with experience in crafting suitable UK advice that is mindful of, and can coexist tax-efficiently with, concurrent US concerns.

PROFESSIONAL ADVICE ON TRANSATLANTIC TAX AND ESTATE ISSUES

Our Private Wealth team includes lawyers who specialise in providing guidance on a range of US/UK cross border matters. Co-ordinating with US advisers where necessary, we are able to provide a tailored and fully integrated estate plan.

WILLS & SUCCESSION PLANNING

PROTECTING YOUR WISHES BEYOND YOUR LIFETIME.

Creating a will can seem like a daunting prospect, raising questions of mortality which you may prefer not to contemplate. However, it is one of the most significant things you can do to provide for your loved ones beyond your lifetime. Without an up to date and well-drafted will, you are at risk of the distribution of your estate not reflecting your true wishes. Whether your circumstances and wishes are relatively straight forward or more complex, you need a trusted adviser to support you to prepare a tax efficient will and to document precisely how you would like your assets to be managed on death.

Our team has the expertise to guide you through the process of making and updating your will, providing you with advice that is tailored to your unique circumstances. Many of our clients have complicated personal affairs which could include being domiciled abroad, holding assets in multiple jurisdictions or wanting to protect wealth through multiple generations. We gain a holistic understanding of the complexities of your life. This allows us to provide you with the certainty that your plans have been set out exactly as you would wish.
